Carnegie Reports Blaine Enjoying Excellent Health.

New York Republicans Discussing the Outlook.

Democrats of the Empire State Hold their Convention.

Belva Lockwood Renominated by the Equal Rights Party.

Blaine in Good Health.

PITTSBURG, May 15.—Andrew Carnegie stated to a reporter to-day that he would sail for Europe next Tuesday and would meet Mr. Blaine and family in London June 6. The party will then start on a tour through Scotland, embracing 700 miles over an entirely new route. Carnegie reports Blaine in excellent health.

New York Republicans.

BUFFALO, May 15.—The state committee will meet to-night and fix upon a temporary organization for the republican convention to-morrow. There is said to be a disposition to make Warner Miller temporary chairman. Senator Arkell favors a solidification of the national delegates for Depew. Friends of Depew to be the candidate of the delegation until he is nominated or until it is clear that the western states will not have him, and then he would have Depew arise and affirm the delegation never voted for Blaine. There is development among Blaine's whilom mid-even his present adherents an impatient petulance at what is termed the "harrowing" tactics by which many delegates feel that they are being kept in the dark or being misled as to whether he is actually a candidate. The statement is made on what is declared good authority to-day that Depew will not attend the convention. General Husted and many others oppose any formal declarations of principles of the party at this convention. Thomas C. Platt says he sees no question which the convention could decide. He believes no effort will be made to pledge the delegation for any man.

BUFFALO, May 15. The republican state committee to-night selected Chas. Fitch for temporary chairman of the state convention which will meet to-morrow.

New York Democrats.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The democratic state convention to choose delegates to St. Louis was called to order at quarter before one in the Academy of Music and Frederick R. Coudert chosen temporary chairman. The building was crowded with prominent democrats.

Coudert, in taking the chair, made a brief speech. He said: "How different the outlook to what it was every winter sanguine hopes of '84. Then we could only make promises. Now we can stand upon facts. And we say to all our fellow citizens of the country to whom we made pledges, point out a single one that we have broken. [Applause.] You were told that democratic ascendancy meant financial distress and ruin. Look about you now. When has our name been more honored at home or abroad? When has our treasury been guarded more intelligently or honestly? Ask what promise we had broken or pledges we had left unfulfilled? I refer you to the history of the last three years. It is easy to draw platforms and prate about moral ideas. The speaker spoke in terms of praise of the courage and sincerity of President Cleveland as exhibited in his third message. At the conclusion of Chairman Coudert's address the usual committees were appointed and recess taken until 7 o'clock.

NEW YORK, May 15.—During the recess the committee on delegates and alternates proceeded first to select the delegates at large. Governor Hill's name was first proposed but received only five votes. Delegates at large finally selected for submission to the convention were: Joel C. Chapin, Brooklyn; Edward Cooper, New York; Geo. C. Rains, Rochester, and Roswell P. Flower, New York. The selection of congressional delegates followed; Oswald Ottendorfer and Wilson S. Bissell being chosen electors at large. The committee completed their work by selecting district electors. At the reassembling of delegates at 8 Chairman Coudert came in and in a row with Mayor Grace. Mayor Hewitt's name brought down a storm of hisses. Fellow were not drowning the cheers for the American mayor. Cheers that took the house greeted the mention of Hill's name. Reports of committees were heard and the temporary organization made permanent. The platform was then reported and adopted. The rules of delegates and electors were then approved, and after listening to great speeches from Daniel Dougherty and Congressman Cockran the convention adjourned sine die.

Belva Renominated.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 15.—The convention of the equal rights party met in this city this afternoon and was called to order by Mrs. Nettie Sandford Chapin. Mrs. Marshalltown, chairman of the national committee. Arrangements had been made so that delegates unable to attend could send their ballots by mail. The convention proceeded to count the ballots thus received, with the following result: For president of the United States, Belva A. Lockwood of Washington and for vice president Alfred H. Love of Philadelphia received votes and were nominated. There were forty votes scattered for Blaine, General Clayton R. Peck, Frances E. Cody, Stanton, Susan B. Anthony and others. The convention adopted a form favorably mentioning woman's suffrage, with five social and labor planks, and one of the two on whisky and tobacco, and unrestricted immigration. The convention then adjourned sine die.

Alabama Republicans.

MONTGOMERY, May 15.—The republican convention was called to order at noon. A colored man named Stevens, temporary chairman, and made a speech urging the nomination of a ticket. He denounced federal office holders in Alabama during the terms of Hayes, Garfield and Arthur, as political Convention Arrangements.

NEW YORK, May 15.—A committee of [illegible] appointed by the national democratic committee to make the arrangements for the national convention met here to-day. Mr. H. Bergum of Connecticut presided. The committee selected Hon. Richard J. Bright of Indiana as secretary and Capt. Dan Able of St. Louis as chief doorkeeper for the democratic national convention at St. Louis. The appointments will be subject to the approval of the democratic national committee, which will submit them to the convention for confirmation.

United Labor Convention.

CINCINNATI, May 15.—At 2 o'clock delegates of the united labor party were called to order by John Maskin, of the executive committee. There were no contests. Wm. B. Ogden of Kentucky was elected temporary chairman and escorted to the chair by Mr. Cowdry and Dr. Mettyna. C. A. Henry of Kansas and John L. Duncan of Michigan were elected secretaries. Temporary officers were then made permanent, and the committee on platform, one from each state, was chosen. The chair was empowered to appoint a committee of five to confer with the union labor convention with reference to union of the two conventions. Adjourned till afternoon to-morrow.

Union Labor Convention.

CINCINNATI, May 15.—The national convention of the union labor party was called to order at noon in Odeon, with 28 states represented. S. F. Norton, of Chicago, was chosen temporary chairman. After the opening address and the appointment of committees the convention [illegible] It is clear that the chief difficulties before the convention will be the preparation of a platform. Greenbackers held a conference last night made but little progress toward merging into the new party. The drift of sentiment is in favor of holding fast to the name and leading principles of the organization. The united labor faction shows more anxiety to coinhine, but their cardinal principle of land ... is repugnant to the greater portion of union labor men.

Delegates for Allison.

SANTA FE, N. M., May 15. The republican territorial convention to choose delegates to the national republican convention was held here to-day. Thomas B. Catron of Santa Fe, Francisco Chavez of Valencia were chosen as delegates at large, and Colonel Lynch was nominated for national committeeman. The delegates are understood to favor Allison of Iowa for president.

Other Conventions.

CONNECTICUT.

NEW HAVEN, May 15.—The republican state convention met to-night and after the appointment of committees adjourned until to-morrow. Immediately after adjournment the various county and district conventions went in caucus. Caucus choice for delegates at large were as follows: S. L. Warner, Samuel Fessenden, J. S. Bray and D. S. Henry.

DAKOTA.

JAMESTOWN, May 15.—Some 200 delegates, representing thirty-three republican clubs, met here to-day and organized a territorial league. Abe Gripstill of Fargo president. The indications are the republican territorial convention to-morrow will elect Col. Plummer delegate at large. He is for Blaine.

MAINE.

PORTLAND, 15.—The state convention of prohibitionists opened this afternoon with seventy-five delegates present, including several ladies. General Neal Dow delivered an address of welcome, and other speeches followed. After the appointment of committees the convention adjourned until to-morrow.

MISSOURI.

SEDALIA, May 15.—The republican state convention was called to order at 12 10 p. m. Henry Lamm was made temporary chairman. After the appointment of committees the convention adjourned until 3 o'clock.

The following were selected as delegates at large: Chauncey I. Filley, St. Louis, Congressman William Warner, Kansas City, C. P. Dyer, St. Louis, and Joseph Phelan, Marion county.

NEVADA.

WINNEMUCCA, May 15.—The republican state convention met here this afternoon with Judge Wells of Carson temporary chairman. The usual committees were appointed and the convention adjourned till 7 this evening.

Working for Fusion.

CINCINNATI, May 15.—The conference committee of the two conventions have been in session all night, and at midnight no indication had been given of their progress. They comprise on the part of the united labor convention Dr. McGlynn of New York, Barnes of New York, Houghton of Ohio, Conkey of Illinois and Gompers, Duncan of Michigan, union labor committee, Zane of Pennsylvania, Potter of Michigan, Evans of Texas, Dixon of Illinois and Brisenthal of Kansas. The general impression is that the committee will unite upon a form of fusion. Three of the union labor committee are [illegible] advocates of the [illegible] ticket.

The Drill at Austin.

AUSTIN, TEX., May 15. The second day's drill of the state rifle contest opened with [illegible] crowd present. A [illegible] was fired at [illegible] and the record of Galveston was 43 out. The following famous companies participated this afternoon in the [illegible] San Antonio Rifles, Waco Light Infantry, Scaly Rifles of Galveston and the Heinzelman Rifles of San Antonio. The contest between the companies which began yesterday, was concluded to-day but no decisions will be announced until the last day of the drill.

THE EXPLOSION.

The Work of Repairing the Damage Already Begun.

The Railroad Company to Rebuild the Depot at Once.

The Total Number of Deaths by the Explosion, Three.

The Coroner's Inquest to be Continued this Morning.

The Fountain explosion still continues to be the all absorbing topic of conversation on the streets. Nearly every person who visited the scene of the disaster on Monday carried away some relic of the explosion in the way of bits of iron, pieces of car rails, etc., etc. In the Delmonico restaurant there is a quarter of a car wheel which was found nearly a half a mile from the old depot site.

Quite a number of people visited the village yesterday, drawn there entirely by curiosity. The work of repairing the damage wrought by the explosion has already begun. The railroad company have a large force of laborers at work removing the debris from the depot site and placing the track in thorough condition. Yesterday orders were received from headquarters to have the depot immediately rebuilt. The company are doing their business the best they can under the circumstances and telegraphic communication has been thoroughly established.

Yesterday morning Alderman Lawton went to Fountain for the purpose of learning if anything was needed by or could be done for the sufferers. He found all the wounded resting quite comfortably, and with the exception of Mrs. Widrig it is thought that all will recover. Lawrence Veihart who was reported dead by the Denver News in its issue of yesterday, is not so bad as at first reported. On Monday morning it was thought that he had been mortally injured, but in the afternoon the physicians stated that his wounds were not of a very serious nature, and that he would recover beyond doubt. He was quite near the depot when the explosion took place.

On Saturday afternoon a relief committee was organized in the village, consisting of five members, among whom were Messrs. J. C. Denny, Joe Patton and S. B. Ross. This committee went vigorously to work to provide for the wants of the injured. The supplies sent down from this city were gratefully appreciated and were readily distributed. When Mr. Lawton returned from Fountain he reported that a few delicacies in the way of fruit, jellies, etc., would be very acceptable to those who had been injured. The committee in this city purchased some fruit, etc., and sent it down to Fountain on the afternoon train. In this connection we have been requested to state that the Wells, Fargo Express company will carry any articles for the relief of the Fountain sufferers free of charge.

The amount of vitality shown by Mrs. Widrig is simply surprising. At seven o'clock last evening she was still alive, and apparently as feeble as she was all day Monday. Early Monday morning it was thought that she could not possibly live over two hours. She is totally unconscious, and the only perceptible sign of life is her faint breathing. Yesterday morning the body of Mr. C. F. Smith was sent by the Kansas City express to his former home in Iowa for interment. At ten o'clock this morning the funeral of Mr. H. W. Hutchins will take place at Fountain. He will be buried in the little cemetery south of the village. The remains of the man Shipman, who was burned beyond recognition, are at Hallett & Baker's undertaking establishment where they were taken on Monday. Unless something is heard from his relatives this morning, the body will be interred in the potter's field in Evergreen cemetery.

There is some diversity of opinion regarding the liability of the railroad company for the damage caused by the explosion. Some citizens claim that if it can be proven that the explosion was caused by the negligence of the railroad employees, that the company is not only liable for the damage to the property entrusted to its care, and the injuries to the passengers, but is also liable for all damage and injury to the property and residents of Fountain.

Others maintain that the company can only be held responsible for the damage to the freight and the injury to the passengers. The question of the company's responsibility for the disaster will be determined by the coroner's jury which meets this morning.

The force of the collision which preceded the explosion must have been much greater than was at first reported. Dr. E. George Walls of this city, who was a passenger on the train, was in the Pullman car at the time of the collision. He stated yesterday that the force was so great that he was thrown violently from one end of the car to the other. He received his injuries in the collision and not in the explosion, as has been stated.

The car which exploded is supposed to have contained about 25,000 pounds of powder. The conductor of the freight train stated on Monday morning that he breathed a breath of relief when he arrived in the city with the car, as the car was [illegible] and Leadville over the Midland. He said that the car was an old one, and that there were several large cracks in it.

The following additional subscriptions to the relief fund were received by the committee yesterday:

A. E. Tourtalin	$ 25 00
Orlando Metcalf	50 00
The Hutchinsons Williams Livery Co.	25 00

STATE CONVENTION.

Republicans in Convention at Pueblo Finish their Work.

Delegates to Chicago Selected—Mr. Hewbert Among the Number.

A Resolution to Pledge them to Blaine Defeated.

Wolcott and Belford Furnish Some Excitement.

Convention at Pueblo.

PUEBLO, May 15.—The republican state convention was called to order at 10 o'clock by Hon. H. A. W. Tabor. In his opening remarks he expressed the hope that the delegates would be true to the trust which that state had recently conferred upon them.

Melvin Edwards of La Plata county, [illegible] In his address his allusions to the prominent men mentioned for the presidential nomination were warmly received, and when he spoke of Blaine as a possibility the convention broke forth in rounds of tumultuous cheering. It was full ten minutes before order was finally restored.

Mr. L. N. Stevens of Arapahoe was made secretary. Hugh North of Boulder, Wm. H. Bush of Arapahoe, C. L. Smith of Pueblo, S. A. Newell of Gilpin, Peter W. Breese of Lake, C. E. Noble of El Paso, C. C. Holbrook of Conejos, Chas. Oliver of Gunnison and Daniel George of Aspen were appointed the committee on credentials. Pending the report of the committee Judge Belford addressed the convention. After the report Ed Wolcott moved that a delegate from each of the judicial districts be appointed to select delegates to the national convention. Judge Belford moved as an amendment that one delegate from each county be chosen to decide upon the delegates and that two of the delegates to the Chicago convention be given to Arapahoe county. In order that the [illegible] amendment he asked for an adjournment.

Belford's motion was a bomb that threw the convention into confusion. It had been decided last night that but one delegate should go to Chicago from Arapahoe and that the other five be taken from the state at large. To this proposition the Wolcott forces had adhered, and upon the question last night the lines were drawn between Wolcott and Tabor. It was thought that the friends of Tabor had given up the contest, and Belford's motion was the first indication to the convention that a fight had been determined upon. The confusion which the convention had been thrown continued for almost an hour, when Wolcott seeing the impossibility of securing anything like harmony, suggested that Belford's motion to adjourn be acceded to. Mr. Belford's motion was then carried. Upon this question Tabor had great strength in his counties.

Upon reassembling of the convention Judge Belford took the floor in support of his amendment. He took the position that his suggestion was just, and held that if it was voted down the impression would go forth that the convention was a packed convention in the interest of Ed Wolcott.

Mr. Wolcott jumped to his feet and repudiated the assertion of Belford. He denounced his opponent in the bitterest terms. Intense excitement prevailed. Judge Belford sat pale and determined, and when he arose to answer Mr. Wolcott he was refused permission. He attempted to speak amidst great confusion. General Hamill in his speech, alluding to Belford's position in the national convention, gave him the opportunity and he retorted with rigor upon Mr. Wolcott, charging him with betraying his party in the Campbell campaign and by default turning the state over to the democrats two years ago.

A compromise motion by Mr. Eddy of Garfield county, making the committee thirteen, cut off further discussion. The following were then appointed: Samuel Newell, John C. Montgomery, A. G. Holland, Ben Crowell, Charles Johnson, J. F. Sanders, Frank C. Goudy, J. L. Brush, A. M. Stevenson at large, O. H. Harker, Otto Mears, Porter Plumb.

A committee on resolutions was appointed as follows: W. A. Hamill, Chas. Johnson, F. A. Reynolds, J. R. Smith, J. W. Dean, J. I. Warwick, A. H. Eddy, Wolfe Londoner, C. T. Wheaton, M. T. Hills, Joseph Smith, Samuel W. Jones, O. H. Wangelin. Recess was then taken to two o'clock, and on reassembling the following were chosen as delegates to the national convention: Henry R. Wolcott, W. A. Hamill, John W. Wineate, Irving Howbert, C. M. Donaldson, J. M. Henderson, alternates, George A. Graham, Henry Kellogg, C. E. McConnell, J. F. Drake, H. C. Olney, A. M. Safely.

The convention adopted resolutions endorsing the recent remarks of Senator Ingalls in congress, expressing appreciation of him as an exponent of republican principles, and inviting him to address the state convention at Denver in September. The resolutions favor the protection of American industries, demand that silver coinage be placed on an equal basis with gold, favor liberal pensions, a free ballot and fair count and wise expenditure of public moneys for internal improvements, welcome to our shores all who are in sympathy with free institutions and who are able to maintain themselves without taking bread out of the mouths of [illegible] beeiles and convicts, and changing the date of the September convention to the 11th instead of the 25th. A resolution instructing delegates to vote for James G. Blaine was presented, but the convention decided to send its delegates uninstructed and untrammeled. The convention adopted resolutions in memory of the late Governor F. W. Pitkin. Adjourned.

Fifty-fifth Congress.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 15. Hour called up for action the report of the privileges and elections committee on the Turpie case. After some discussion the committee was discharged from further consideration of the case.

On motion of Stewart the bill for the admission of Washington territory as a state was made special order for Tuesday of next week, and subsequently bills for the admission of North Dakota and Montana were also made special order for the same day.

The pension bill was taken up and an amendment reported increasing the amount of appropriation from $79,000,000 to $80,472,000 was agreed to.

The next amendment was to strike out of the house bill the words "that in all pensions to widows payments shall be made from the date of death of the husband," and insert in lieu of it the following: "That all pensions which have been or may hereafter be granted under general laws regulating pensions to widows in consequence of death occurring from cases which originated in the service since March 4, 1861, shall commence from the date of the death of the husband."

Harris made a point of order that the amendment was general legislation in an appropriation bill. The same objection applies to the house clause, but the only remedy in the senate was to strike it out, so a point of order did not lie against it.

After a long discussion the senate, yeas 32, nays 18, decided that the proposed amendment was in order. Democrats generally voted in the negative and were joined by Senators Edmunds and Ingalls.

A proposition of Cockrell was agreed to and the bill went over till to-morrow, leaving the amendments undecided.

The house bill to establish a department of labor went over without action. The house bill limiting hours of letter carriers' work to eight hours passed without division.

HOUSE.

The senate bill was passed granting right of way through the Cœur d'Alene Indian reservation, to the Washington and Idaho Railroad company. The house then went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill and was addressed by Butterworth.

Butterworth, in his speech, said the passage of the law would be the direct condemnation of the protective policy. It indicated to the country that whether the tariff was perfect or not the democratic party was not a fit instrument to perfect it. The mission of the protective tariff was to place the people of our country on an equality with the producers of the old world. The protective tariff dealt with conditions and not with boundary lines. From those nations against which the United States held the colgn of advantage no odds were asked, but when the republicans found conditions which would strike down our industries and the rate of wages of our workingmen, then they erected a wall of protective tariff. In skill and cunning American workmen asked no odds. The capital, the plants and the skill were here, but starvation wages were not here and never would be so long as the republican party wrote the laws of the country. Capital had the advantage of labor. Capital could wait longer for its dividends than labor could for its breakfast. He made a comparison between Ohio, where protection prevailed, and states where free trade philosophy existed, greatly to the advantage of his own state. He created much laughter by reading an extract from the London Times declaring that the only time England has any use for an Irishman is when he emigrates to America and votes free trade, which he almost invariably does. He concluded he said that the issue was fairly up between the two parties. Let there be no juggling. Let the resolutions in the national platforms so fairly present the issue that they would attest that they were done by patriotic statesmen and not by temporizing, huckstering politicians.

Buckalew of Pennsylvania supported the bill.

Henderson of Illinois opposed it.

Stone of Kentucky favored the measure. The north, he said, still wanted the protective system, but the hand writing was on the wall and the protection idea was bound to pass out of the list of American ideas quietly and peacefully by the efforts of the people.

Grout of Vermont compared the farming interest of Vermont and Kentucky quoting statistics to show that the eastern state was far in advance of her western rival. The only thing in which Kentucky had more than Vermont were illiterates, saloons, mules and asses.

Seymour of Michigan spoke in support of the system of protection, behind which the small industries of the country had been built up and became strong and prospering.

The committee then rose. The house took recess until 8 o'clock, evening session, to be for debate on the tariff bill.

The delegates from Colorado to the republican national convention will go uninstructed. They are among the representative republicans of the state and are abundantly qualified to represent the interests of the party in this state.

Ex-Mayor Carter Harrison writes from India that the water there is not fit to drink. The democrats at home generally reach the same opinion. Mr. Harrison would undoubtedly like to attend the democratic national convention at St. Louis. Like India, the water there is unfit to drink, but that fact will not keep the untertified away. Water is not considered an essential by the average democrat.

Congressman Martin of Texas wants to hoist at the masthead the name of the glorious Cleveland and fight the battle of the people in Kansas, Iowa and Michigan. If Mr. Martin should display the same energy in fighting the battle of the people that he exhibited in blowing out the gas in his room at the hotel at Washington the chances are that the battle of the people would be for a very long duration, and that the name of the glorious Cleveland would be hoisted in vain at the masthead.

Senator Bowen seems to be over mindful of the interests of his constituents. Besides his efforts in passing the Ute removal bill through the senate, he has introduced an important amendment to the bill making appropriations for the construction, repair and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors. By this amendment the sum of $250,000 is appropriated for the purpose of investigating the extent to which the arid region of the United States can be redeemed by irrigation, and the segregation of the irrigable lands in such arid region, and for the selection of sites for reservoirs and other hydraulic works necessary for the storage and utilization of water for irrigation and the prevention of floods and overflows.

Governor Hill of New York has vetoed the high license bill recently passed by the republican legislature of that state, and which, if enacted into a law, would have greatly diminished the number of saloons and thereby lessened the evils of the liquor traffic. In vetoing the bill the governor has shown his utter inability to rise above party considerations. His action has been controlled entirely by the saloon keepers in the large cities who are mostly identified with the democratic party. It is in the large cities of the state that the party derives its principal strength. The bill would have accomplished the same practical results in New York, that a similar bill has accomplished in Philadelphia, where the number of saloons has been reduced two-thirds. The democratic party has made no efforts to conceal its sympathy for and alliance with the saloon keepers, and Governor Hill having openly declared that he was a democrat, was not able to sign a measure which his party did not sanction, though it had the support of the best element in the state. In spite of the open hostility of the party to all measures having for their object the curtailment of the power of the liquor interests, the prohibitionists still continue to perpetuate it in power by opposing the republican party which has enacted and fostered temperance measures. Ex-Governor St. John is stumping Oregon for the third party and the democrats hope that he will drive away enough republican votes from the party to enable them to carry the legislature and gain a United States senator. In their efforts in the cause of temperance reform the prohibitionists have adopted a policy which has defeated temperance legislation and increased the power of their real opponents.

Under the heading "The Way High License Works," the Indianapolis News has the following:

The earnest attention of good citizens is to be invited to the report from Pittsburg concerning saloons. Pennsylvania has adopted a high license and local option law, and yesterday it went into effect at Pittsburg. This was the effect. Of 727 saloons there 302 "stopped short," like the grandfather's clock, never to go again. In Allegheny county, out of 1,551 applications for license, only 465 were granted. Now there is a record of freedom. There is the result of a law which allows the voice of the majority to rule. The local option features of such law settle it exactly, one way or the other, according as the majority decides. It is precisely as free and fair for those who want saloons as for those who do not, and it is only a question of which is in the majority. Under the miserable farce of a liquor law which prevails in this state no one practically has any rights but the saloon keepers. No spectacle is more common than saloon keepers locating their business in neighborhoods which protest against it to a man. This law was framed by saloon keepers, and it bears the image and superscription of its makers upon it. It is, in fact, no regulation at all which the nominal license which it exacts is made to excuse and [illegible] a license fee, allowing [illegible] to do first. According to majority [illegible] them a fee commensurate, in some sort, with the expense which their traffic creates. And this high license has not only that element of justice in it, but it has the moral effect of wiping out drug store and other illicit liquor selling. The size of the fee makes infractions too serious a matter and works a vigilance on the part of those who pay that cuts off illicit traffic. The operations of high license laws everywhere have been these: (1) an immense reduction in the number of saloons, with those existing resting in the decision and support of the people of that community, (2) a vast [illegible] to the public treasury, (3) a vast decrease of drunkenness, (4) the practical extinction of liquor selling outside those duly authorized high licensed places.

HON. THOMAS WHITE.

The Canadian Minister of the Interior Has Passed Away.

[Special Correspondence.]

OTTAWA, May 7.—Hon. Thomas White, minister of the interior, whose sudden death recently shocked the Dominion of Canada, was the eldest son of the late Thomas White, a native of Westmeath, Ireland, who emigrated to Canada in 1820. The son was born in Montreal, Aug. 7, 1830, was educated at the high school, Montreal, and married, in 1855, Miss Vine, of Quebec. He was engaged in the mercantile pursuits of early life, and afterwards studied law for four years with the Hon. Sidney Smith, Q. C., of Cobourg. Having removed to Peterboro, he became connected with The Peterboro Review, and served for some years as mayor of that town. He moved in 1863 to Hamilton, where he entered into partnership with his brother Richard, with whom he became part proprietor of The Spectator, acting as editor in chief. He returned to Montreal as chief proprietor of The Gazette, finally, with his brother's assistance, securing full control of that paper, which is one of the first in Canada. He was for several years a representative of the Montreal board of trade at the Dominion board; for three years a member of the executive committee of the latter body, and for five years the representative of the National board of trade of the United States.

HON. THOMAS WHITE.

His untiring energy and power of clearly comprehending the most difficult situations naturally led to his being asked to enter public life. After several defeats he first entered parliament as member for Cardwell, in 1878, being re-elected in 1882 and again in 1887.

On Aug. 5, 1885, while the wounds caused in the northwest by the rebellion of that year were still bleeding, he was sworn to the privy council and appointed minister of the interior, afterward becoming superintendent general of Indian affairs, which position he held till the time of his death. M

It is stated on very good authority that several gentlemen interested in the Rock Island together with some local capitalists will soon open another banking institution in this city. Last evening, about nine o'clock, the horse and phaeton belonging to Mr. J. D. O'Haire were stolen from in front of a store in Colorado City. Mr. O'Haire had securely hitched them before entering the store. When he came out he found the hitching strap around the post. The thief had unsnapped the fastener and driven off the horse. When Mr. O'Haire returned to the city he procured a horse and rode through a number of the streets in search of his vehicle. He finally found the horse hitched to a tree in the center of Nevada avenue three blocks below the south park.

Professor W. Mason Broad of Denver will superintend and direct the large jubilee chorus of 500 voices, which will assist in the Grand Gilmore Musical Festival, to be held in Denver on June 15 and 16, at which Gilmore's famous band will be heard. The selections for the chorus will include the following: Gloria; Mozart's 12th Mass; Pilgrim Chorus, I. Lombadi; Crowned with the Tempest; Ernani; Anvil Chorus, Trovatore, with anvil and cannon accompaniment; The Star Spangled Banner; Hallelujah Chorus, Messiah. Professor Broad desires to secure several voices for the chorus in this city, and if a sufficient number will attend he will give them two or three rehearsals. There will be a grand rehearsal in Denver on Thursday, June 14. The books containing the music will be furnished free of cost to members of the chorus, and no admission fee will be required of chorus members whose names are on the list. Applications for membership are being received daily and it is imperative that singers wishing to join the chorus should communicate at once with Professor Broad, as only a certain number can be accommodated upon the platform.

REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND INSURANCE!

Special Attention Given to the Collection of Rent, Interest, etc., and the Care of Property of Persons out of Town.

Insurance Carefully Written in First-Class Companies Only.

Losses Promptly and Satisfactorily Adjusted

STRANGERS, and others not posted in our Real Estate Market, often ask the question, "Where can I best invest my money to be sure of Quick and Profitable returns?"

1st. I would say select a location where you have the most SUNSHINE, the finest view of our GRAND MOUNTAIN SCENERY, etc.

2nd. See that you locate where you can enjoy the best WATER ADVANTAGES that our city affords. A home without water in this country is a desert, and when I say BEST WATER ADVANTAGES I mean not only for irrigating purposes which are important, but also for DOMESTIC PURPOSES. Our water supply at present is limited, and under existing circumstances the time is near at hand if not already here when every drop will be needed inside present city limits.

3rd. Do not locate where lots are too low in price. Low priced LOTS mean low priced HOUSES and a PALACE surrounded by shanties will never sell for half its value. Buy economize in other ways and secure a lot that will increase in value.

4th. Don't wait until the "Rock Island" comes in and then pay 25 per cent more than present rates.

5th. Lastly, call and see us and we will convince you that "BOULDER HEIGHTS" possesses all the above advantages.

The Granger Land and Town Co.

Now Offers For Sale the Entire

Town Site of Granger,

EL PASO COUNTY, COLORADO.

GRANGER is situated on the line of the Denver, Texas & Gulf R. R., about 18 miles northeast of Colorado Springs, in the center of the best Agricultural District in Colorado. The rainfall is sufficient to perfect good crops, and irrigation is entirely unnecessary. All the available land within a radius of twenty-five miles has been taken up by bona fide settlers, and improvements are rapidly being made on all the occupied land.

Granger has one of the best Town Sites in the state. It commands an extended view in every direction. The site is almost perfectly level, with a slight fall to the southeast. Water is obtainable within 20 feet of the surface on the entire Town Site. The streets are all 80 feet in width of the railroad. The Surveyed Line of THE CHICAGO AND ROCK ISLAND RAILROAD Runs Parallel with that of the DENVER, TEXAS & GULF RAILROAD through the Center of the Town, and forms a Junction with the latter at this Point, and will be the Construction Headquarters of Rock Island Extension in Colorado. Granger is destined to become an important town in the near future by reason of its location. It is an Objective Point on the lines of all the Railroads now heading for the Pacific Coast. It is an important Shipping point on the D., T. & G. R. R. for a large section of country. In the matter of business handled Granger ranks third on the line of the road.

The lots will be sold on the popular Allotment Plan, as follows:

PRICE -:- $25.00 Each.

The drawing for location, due notice of which will be given, will occur not later than June 1st next, and will be conducted by a competent committee selected by the certificate holders. The company will include in the drawing every alternate lot in the entire town site as platted, beginning with lot 1 in each block, reserving only numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 18 and 19 in block 1; number 13 in block 2; numbers 1, 2 and 23 in block 11; numbers 17, 18 and 32 in block 12; numbers 15 and 16 in block 21; number 18 in block 22; number 17 in block 31; numbers 1, 2 and 3 in block 41, and block 23.

All these lots have been sold and deeded. The object in reserving thus each alternate lot throughout the entire plat, and selling the other at the low price of $25, when there is not a lot in the entire site but what is well worth $100 (some of the reserved lots above mentioned have been sold at this figure), is to enhance the value of property reserved by inducing the purchasers to build and improve over the entire plat. After the drawing prices will be advanced on lots reserved. Lots will be for sale for only a limited time at the following places:
